Port, Corps and Community celebrate Deeper Draft completion

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Seattle District Commander and District Engineer, Colonel Mark A. Geraldi and his staff were in attendance at the 6th Annual Port of Grays Harbor Business Report to help celebrate the completion of Deeper Draft.

After two years of dredging, the deepening of the Grays Harbor Navigation Channel to its congressionally authorized depth is now complete. Community and business leaders, along with Port customers, tenants and partners including Colonel Mark A. Geraldi and leadership from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Seattle District, came together in February to celebrate the second and final phase of Deeper Draft.

Phase II of Deeper Draft included dredging the channel from -36 feet MLLW to -38 feet MLLW. The project was officially completed by contractor American Construction on December 22, 2018.

"It has been an honor working with the Seattle District on this important navigation project. We truly value the partnership with the Corps and I am pleased to announce we have already seen the benefits of the project with an increase in the average tonnage of vessels calling Grays Harbor," said Executive Director Gary Nelson. "We also want to thank Senators Murray and Cantwell, and Congressman Kilmer for their ongoing support, as well as the State of Washington for partnering on this important project that will service the Port and our community well into the future."

By the numbers: 2018 Highlights

- 3 Million metric tons of cargo handled
- 111 Vessels expertly guided by Grays Harbor Pilots
- 11th In the nation for commercial seafood landed
- 400 Workers at Satsop Business Park daily
- 3,281 Camping nights spent at Friends Landing
